CHAPTER 2 Rigro

1. The rigro is preferably held every two weeks in Zodiac or Forum during the academic year. The Board presides the rigro. Fixed agenda items of the two weekly rigro are Opening and agenda, Minutes of the previous rigro, Future activities, Vacancies, Any other business, Reports and queries, and Closure. Occasionally, a rigro can be added, cancelled or moved at the proposal of the Board.
2. Entities that are allowed to enter the rigro:
 - Members

- Non-Members of the Study association who hold a position in a committee, the board of a sub-association or other entity, may be granted special exemption during their term in this position. Special exemption may be granted when no objections have been raised after the introduction of the Non-Member during the rigro;
 - Other entities than the previous mentioned only have access to the rigro when invited by the rigro.
3. An additional rigro can be issued by the Board on a proposal from the Board, a committee, the board of a sub-association, another entity, or at least seven Members. The date is proposed by the Board and preferably set in the rigro and communicated by email to the Members.
 4. The rigro takes place if the quorum is met. The quorum for the continuation of the rigro is determined at the end of each academic year for the subsequent academic year, on a proposal from the Board. When Members leave during the rigro, causing the quorum for the continuation of the rigro to be no longer met, the rigro is closed.
 5. Ten minutes after the start of the rigro, a Member is not allowed to enter the rigro, unless otherwise discussed with the Board at least one hour before the start of the rigro. If a Member is allowed to enter the rigro after consultation with the Board, this Member will be on the attendance list. Board Members are allowed to enter the rigro later, because Board Members can be addressed during agenda point 'Any other business'.
 6. All Members, i.e. those who are: Members, the Board, a committee, the board of a sub-association, or other entity, receive the agenda by email at least 24 h before each rigro. In addition, it is possible to receive the agenda by indicating this during the rigro or in writing. The file of the Members, who receive the minutes of the rigro is revised throughout the academic year.
 7. Members can email comments or questions about the rigro agenda at least one hour before the start of the rigro. If the comments or questions are sent later, those comments or questions will not be discussed during this rigro, but they will be answered by email, or if it concerns all Members it will be discussed in the next rigro.
 8. Only proposals, the election protocol and the most important IR changes, shown in a PowerPoint presentation, will be read out loud during the rigro.
 9. No decisions can be made about items that are not on the agenda. However, if desired, an opinion can be requested.
 10. A decision made in the rigro can be changed within two rigros. This change must be proposed in a rigro, and the modification must be supported by at least two-thirds of the votes. During voting, the quorum for voting must be met. The quorum for voting is determined in a proposal together with Budget association and the financial goals during a rigro at the end of the academic year. Proxies do not count towards achieving the voting quorum.
 11. A voting regarding motions related to persons take place no earlier than when the person in question has had the opportunity to defend themselves during a rigro. From the moment of sending in a motion, the person in question that has to defend themselves has to be present in a rigro as soon as possible with a maximum of six weeks. After six weeks, the motion can be accepted without presence of the person in question.
 12. The rigro can express its displeasure about the functioning of one or more Members in a committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity, and Board Members. In the subsequent meeting a vote of no confidence can be submitted, in which at least two-thirds of the votes must be in favour of this motion. The concerning Member or Board Members must then step down.

13. At least one delegate of each committee (except Workgroup Association Animals) and one delegate of each board of a sub-association, is required to be present at the rigro. If this is not possible, the committee or the board of the sub-association must notify the Board of this, with a legitimate reason, according to the Board. This must be done in a written report, at least one hour before the rigro starts. After one time absent without a notification or with a notification which does not contain a legitimate reason, according to the Board, the committee or sub-association has to treat within an upcoming rigro.
14. Committee rigros and Sub-association rigros each take place two times per academic year, preferably at the beginning of the second and fifth period.
15. The corrected minutes of rigros must be placed on the website of the Study association before Monday 23.59h of the week in which the next rigro takes place.
16. The rigros will be held in week 1, 3, 5, and 7 in period 1, 2, 5, and 6 of the academic year. In period 3 and 4 of the academic year, rigros will be held in week 1 and 3.
17. The order of the non-fixed agenda points is regulated by the rule first come first serve. Financial pieces have priority. However, exceptions can be made after consultation with the Board or after a decision of the Board.

CHAPTER 3 Activities

1. Activities and vacancies must be reported to the Board via email, and will be communicated to Members in the newsletter. Activities of the current academic period are shown in the rigro agenda under agenda point 'Future activities' and vacancies are shown in the rigro agenda under agenda point 'Vacancies'. Also, activities have to be reported on the activity calendar on the website of the Study association.
2. Activities can be planned two periods prior to the activity. Period 3 and 4 together count as one period. Committees, sub-associations or other entities can claim a date the first Monday of the period. If two activities overlap in date, the priority list is leading. However, activities can take place at the same time in consultation with the other organising party. When activities are not listed on the priority list or when activities have the same ranking on the priority list, the time of emailing is leading. Exceptions can be made for multi-day activities, ad-hoc committee activities (such as Véater), activities in cooperation with other study associations and activities in cooperation with sponsors. In the case of any cooperations, the Board can be contacted to discuss the possibilities. If a date is not claimed on the first Monday two periods prior to the activity, the priority list will not be taken into account.
3. Activities must be entered into the calendar of the Study association's website as soon as possible after confirmation via email from the Board. If the activity is not submitted on the calendar of the website after one week since confirmation from the Board, the concerning committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity has to treat during the next rigro.
4. Activities are preferably not held on a Tuesday during the time a rigro takes place.
5. Activities are preferably not held during the self-study week and exam week.
6. When Members have to subscribe to an activity the informational email has to be sent before 18.00h on the working day prior to the day of opening the subscriptions. Subscriptions can be opened from 09.00h onwards.
7. For activities without subscription and the selling of merchandise, reminder emails should not be sent. For activities with subscription, it is allowed to send one reminder email when subscriptions are not filled yet. An exception is made for activities and merchandise of Akcie, Almanakcie, (Lustrum) Bedrijvendagcie, (Lustrum) Galacie, Lustrumcie, Promcom, Sollicie, (Lustrum) Symposiumcie and Véater. When a reminder email is sent by an unlisted entity, that entity has to treat during the next rigro.

8. Sub-associations are only allowed to send reminder emails for activities and the selling of merchandise to members of the corresponding sub-association. For multi-day activities such as a binex, buitex or lustrum, reminder emails can be sent to all Members. When more than one reminder email is sent for one-day activities to all Members of the Study association instead of the members of the corresponding sub-association, that entity has to treat during the next rigro.
9. When two rectification emails are sent by the Board, a committee, sub- association, sorority or other entity, that entity has to treat during the next rigro.
10. When an activity is cancelled, this must be communicated to the Board via email.
11. If the ATM, the cameras, the drawing pad, the first aid kit, the kettle, the laser pointer, the megaphone, the navigation systems, the percolator, the Pete suits, the Sinterklaas suit, the SumUp, the tent, the tripod, and the video camera of the Study association is damaged or lost due to inappropriate use by the Board, committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity, the Board will decide per case whether the costs for replacing or repairing will be paid by the committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity. The decision will be shared in a rigro.
12. If personal belongings of Members are damaged, stolen or lost during an activity Study association “De Veetelers”, the Study association cannot be held accountable.
13. When belongings of other entities are damaged or lost due to inappropriate use by Members, the Board, committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity, the Board will decide per case whether the costs for replacing or repairing will have to be paid by Members, the committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity. The decision will be shared in a rigro. Rigro attendees can always object to the decision of the Board, with valid reasons.
14. If the WUR regulations are violated by Members, the Board, committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity, the costs of this violation are at the expense of Members, the Board, committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity.

CHAPTER 5 Votes, elections and proposals

1. When candidates for a position are needed, this will be reported by the Board via email. The vacancy of a position is reported to the Board by the person who is leaving. Persons who are unavailable for a month or longer will be asked to vacate their position. Based on a list of persons who have registered with the Board or who have been approached by the Board for the position, candidates can be proposed.

2. The names of the candidates for positions in the Board, committees, representative MAM, and other entities are mentioned in the newsletter. After the second time that they are mentioned in the newsletter, they are appointed.
3. The appointment of Board Members, Members of Almanakcie and Lustrumcie will be made of one or more binding nominations. To draw up such a candidacy the Board is authorized. The vacancies for Board positions must be mentioned in the newsletter at least six weeks before the expected Board Change. Preferably, Members can be nominated for the Board position up to four weeks before the expected Board Change. Subsequently, the candidates are listed in the newsletter during the next two weeks and are introduced to the Members in the second week.
4. Candidates for Board positions, Members of Almanakcie and Lustrumcie are introduced twice to the Members. The first time of introduction is a written introduction in the newsletter. The second introduction, the candidates for Board positions, Members of Almanakcie and Lustrumcie are mentioned in the rigro agenda. They all have to present themselves orally in the rigro. For Board Members and Lustrumcie Members the voting election takes place after this introduction.
5. Members of Almanakcie are mentioned in the rigro agenda once. They all have to present themselves orally in the rigro and asked is whether there are any objections.
6. Members can submit written proposals that are in the interest of the Study association. These proposals must be submitted to the Board. A proposal can be submitted by the Board, a committee, the board of a sub-association, another entity, or at least seven Members. Proposals have to be handed over to the Board before Monday 17.00 h, of the week prior to the rigro when the proposal must be presented. The proposal must be submitted as a signed proposal, written in English. In an emergency, where quick decisions are required, the applicable time limit may be shortened after conferring with the Board. The rigro can vote for a proposal, taking the voting protocol for proposals into account.
7. The voting protocol is as follows:
 - Budgets and settlements;
In the case of a budget or settlement, the question will be asked if there are any objections to approving the budget or settlement with any changes. Objections must be well-founded. The Board assesses whether an objection is well-founded. An objection can be explained both in writing up to one hour before, and orally during a rigro. If at least three persons make a well-founded objection, the budget or settlement must be changed. The budget or settlement will be resubmitted for the next rigro. If the proposing party does not make any changes, a vote can be taken in the same rigro.
 - Single Board candidate for a vacancy;
In the event of an election of one Board Member, a written and anonymous vote will be taken. Voters for a vacancy can:
 - vote for or against the candidate;
 - vote blank;
 - abstain from voting.Valid votes are all the votes cast on the candidate plus all blank votes. Abstentions do not count in determining the number of votes. Signing the ballot paper as well as making comments on the ballot paper will invalidate the vote. When the candidate receives at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour, the candidate will be appointed. When at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one are against or at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes are blank, the candidate is not appointed and a new election will be organised for this position.

If the candidate does not receive more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour, not more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one against and also not at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes are blank, a second election round will be called for. This election follows the same procedure. If in the second election round the candidate does not receive more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour, not more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote against and also not at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes are blank, a third election round is called for. This round it is not possible to vote blank. If there is no conclusive decision, i.e. there is no majority of valid votes neither in favour nor against the candidate, the election is carried over to the next rigro. If the votes are still inconclusive, the candidate is not appointed and a new election will be organised for the position.

- Multiple Board candidates for a vacancy;

In the event of an election of a Board Member, a written and anonymous vote will be taken. Voters for a vacancy can:

- vote on one of the candidates;
- vote against all candidates;
- vote blank;
- abstain from voting.

Valid votes are all the votes cast on the candidates plus all blank votes. Abstentions do not count in determining the number of votes. Signing the ballot paper as well as making comments on the ballot paper will invalidate the vote.

The candidate who receives at least fifty percent plus one of the number of valid votes in favour will be appointed. If at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes is blank or if at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes is against, plus one vote against all candidates, none of the candidates will take place on the Board and a new election will be organised for the position.

If none of the candidates has received more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour, nor at least fifty percent blank votes has been cast, a second round of voting will take place between the two candidates who received the most votes in the first round. This election follows the same procedure. If none of the candidates receives more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour and not at least fifty percent of blank votes has been received in the second round, a third round of voting will take place between these two candidates. Now, however, it is not possible to vote blank. If there is no conclusive decision, i.e. there is no majority of valid votes in favour for either candidates, the election is carried over to the next rigro. If the votes are still inconclusive, no candidate is appointed and a new election will be organised for the position.

- Proposals and other matters;

In the case of a proposal or other matters, it will be asked if there are any objections to approve the proposal or other matters with any changes. Objections should be well-founded. The Board assesses whether an objection is well-founded. An objection can be explained both in writing up to one hour before, and orally during a rigro. When at least three persons make a well-founded objection, a vote is taken whether the proposing party of the proposal or other matters can decide to withdraw the proposal or other matter and to amend it. Votes on a proposal or other matters take place by hand raising, unless the Board decides otherwise or at least three people in the rigro request a written vote. The ballot starts with the question whether there are objections, voting takes place through show of hands. With at least three objections, the voting will take place during the next rigro through written votes.

When a vote is made by show of hands, a proposal or other matter is adopted if it receives at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes for, plus one vote for. If decisions on a proposal or other matters are taken without a vote, the quorum for an election does not have to be achieved. In case of an inconclusive vote, there is no majority of valid votes either in favour or against the proposal. In that case a proposal or other matter is carried over to the next rigro. If the vote ties again, a proposal or other matter will be rejected. If a decision in the short term, i.e. before the next rigro, is necessary, a proposal or other matter can be regarded as rejected after the first time. When a written election for a proposal or other matters takes place, the voting is anonymous. The voters for a proposal or other matters can:

- vote for or against the proposal or other matters;
- vote blank;
- abstain from voting.

Valid votes are all the votes that appear on the proposal or other matter plus all blank votes. Abstentions do not count in determining the number of votes. Signing the ballot paper as well as making comments on the ballot paper will invalidate the vote.

When the proposal or other matter receives at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote in favour, the proposal or other matter will be adopted. When at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote are against the proposal or other matter, or at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes are blank, the proposal or other matter will be rejected. If the proposal or other matter does not receive more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one in favour, not more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one against and also not at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes is blank, a second election round occurs. This election follows the same procedure. If in the second election round the proposal or other matter does not receive more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote in favour, not more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one against and also not at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes is blank, a third election round occurs. Now, however, it is not possible to vote blank. If there is no conclusive decision, i.e. there is no majority of valid votes in favour or against the matter, the voting is carried over to the next rigro. If the votes are still inconclusive, the matter is not decided and a new election will be organised for the proposal or other matter.

- Multiple options at proposals or other matters;

In the event of an election of a proposal or other matter with multiple options, a written and anonymous vote will be made. Voters for any proposal or other matter can:

- vote on one of the options;
- vote against all the options;
- vote blank;
- abstain from voting.

Valid votes are all the votes cast on the options plus all blank votes. Abstentions do not count in determining the number of votes. Signing the ballot paper as well as making comments on the ballot paper will invalidate the vote. The option that receives at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote is assumed. If at least fifty percent of the number of valid votes is blank, none of the options is chosen and if necessary a new proposal is written.

If none of the options has received more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes plus one vote and also not at least fifty percent blank votes have been received, a second round of voting will take place between the two options that received the most votes in the first round. This election follows the same procedure. If neither of the options received more than fifty percent of the number of valid votes, plus one vote in the second round nor received a minimum of fifty percent of blank votes, a third round of voting will take place between these two options. Now, however, it is not possible to vote blank. If there is no conclusive decision, i.e. there is no majority of valid votes in favour or against the options, the voting is carried over to the next rigro. If the votes are still not conclusive, the options are not decided and, if necessary, a new proposal will be written for the adjusted options.

8. In all cases, voting by proxy is possible. The voter must inform the Board in writing, i.e. by email. This message must include:

- The proxy;
- The name of the person authorised to vote.

An authorised person may have only one proxy. A proxy must be submitted to the Board at least one hour before the rigro, where the voting will take place, starts. A proxy is valid for the first rigro after submitting the proxy, unless otherwise specified in the proxy. A proxy is not an additional Member to reach the quorum.

9. Board members of sub-associations, which are not a Member of Study association “De Veetelers”, are allowed to vote during the rigro.
10. If a discussion, related to an item on the agenda, leads to a proposal to vote, the vote can take place during the same rigro.
11. If during a discussion at least three Members believe that the content of the proposal or the other matter is incomplete, the proposal or other matter has to be adjusted. Voting about the adjustments can only take place during the next rigro; this should not take place earlier than 24 h after the current one.
12. The adjusted proposal or other matter must be distributed amongst Members before the start of the rigro in which the vote takes place.
13. An adjusted proposal or other matter can be discussed only once in a rigro, unless at least two-thirds of the rigro want to discuss the adjusted proposal or other matter once more.
14. When a proposal is submitted, the Board has the right to add an additional requirement as an extra option to vote on, if the Board has financial concerns.
15. Two Members of the Board count the votes independently. When the counts do not match, the votes need to be counted again.
16. When the Board believes a proposal is not well thought out, it can be sent back to the committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity or seven Members for revision. When this feedback is not reviewed, the proposal will not be discussed during the rigro.

CHAPTER 6 Finances

1. The financial year runs from 1 September to 31 August.
2. During the financial year, all committees, sub-associations, and other entities must, at the request of the Board, hand in a budget and/or settlement per activity to Board Member Treasurer.
3. Activities with a budget and/or settlement with a total higher than or equal to € 500,- and lower than € 1,000,- must be presented to the Board. The budget must be handed over to Board Member Treasurer at least two weeks before the activity takes place. Budgets for activities that take place in period 3 should be sent before the Christmas Break. The settlement has to be handed over to Board Member Treasurer within five weeks after the activity has taken place. The FCC must have already checked this financial piece beforehand. Budgets and settlements have to be submitted to the FCC before Monday 12.00h in the week prior to the one in which the concerning rigro takes place. The improved budget has to be handed over to Board Member Treasurer before Wednesday 17.00h in the same week. When a budget or settlement with a total amount higher than or equal to € 500,- and lower than € 1,000,- for an activity of a committee, sub-association or other entity is approved by the Board, the Study association will be financial guarantor. Committees, sub-associations, and other entities are responsible for adjusting a budget or settlement when adjustments are reported by Board Member Treasurer. The adjusted budget or settlement will be returned to Board Member Treasurer.

4. In case of activities with a budget and/or settlement total higher than or equal to € 1,000,- or exceeding the equity capital of the committee or sub-association, the budget and settlement must be presented in the rigro. The budget must be presented in the rigro at least two weeks before the activity. The settlement must be presented in the rigro within five weeks after the activity has taken place. The FCC must have already checked this financial piece beforehand. The budget and settlement of these activities must be approved by the rigro. Budgets and settlements have to be handed over to Board Member Treasurer before Wednesday 17.00h, in the week prior to the rigro when the budget or settlement must be presented. The final adjusted piece has to be handed in before Friday 17.00h of the week prior to the rigro. The Study association will only be financial guarantor for the activity if a budget or settlement is higher than or equal to € 1,000,- or exceeds the equity capital of the committee or sub-association for an activity of a committee, sub-association or other entity is approved by the rigro. Committees, sub-associations, sorority and other entities are responsible for adjusting a budget or settlement when it has been reported in the rigro. The adjusted budget or settlement will be returned to Board Member Treasurer within one week.
5. For an activity where CAS has been requested, the CAS settlement has to be sent to Board Member Treasurer before the settlement of this activity is discussed during the rigro. Preferably, the CAS settlement is handed in together with the activity settlement.
6. When the Study association acts as guarantor, it means that when a committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity can no longer meet its financial obligations, the Study association takes over these financial obligations.
7. If registrations must be opened at a certain time, but no budget for that activity has been discussed in the rigro due to unforeseen circumstances or the budget is rejected by the rigro, a provisional budget must be approved by the Board before opening the registration. If registrations are opened before approval, a treat is expected. For a budget above one thousand euros there should always be a final budget going through the rigro.
8. Dispensation for a delayed budget or settlement must be requested from the Board before Wednesday 17.00 h, prior to the rigro of the week in which the budget or settlement must be presented. Dispensation will only be granted when a legitimate reason, according to the Board, is given. The dispensation will, after approval by the Board, be mentioned in the rigro at 'Opening and agenda', and during the agenda item 'Any other business' a brief explanation is provided by the Board or the relevant committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity. There will be an opportunity to ask questions.
9. Before 14 September, all committees and other entities submit the annual account of the previous financial year to Board Member Treasurer for approval.
10. Before 31 December, the annual account of the previous financial year of the Study association has to be presented for approval by the rigro. This annual account applies the incomes/expenditures setup. After approval of the annual account, the rigro is asked to grant discharge to the Board Members for the period in question by means of a separate agenda item in the rigro.

11. The Membership fee for the following year is determined at the end of the academic year. This is a separate agenda item in the rigro on proposal of the Board.
12. Only the settlements that are approved by the rigro or the Board will be processed in the annual settlement and the balance sheet.
13. The incomes/expenditures of the non-continuous committees and other entities are included in the annual settlement and balance sheet of the Study association on the reference date 31 August of the relevant financial year.
14. The board of a sub-association submits the annual account of the previous financial year at least two weeks before the GMM. Because the financial year ends on 31 August, it is not possible to hold the GMM of sub-associations before 15 September. Before 1 December, the settlement of the previous year and the budget of the coming year have to be presented to and have to be approved by the rigro. This annual account must first be approved by the GMM of the relevant sub-association and verified by Board Member Treasurer. If the annual account is not approved by the rigro before 1 December, the Study association will not act as guarantor for the sub-association. In that case, the budgets and settlements of activities of this sub-association will not be presented in the rigro, with the exception of the GMM. Only in exceptional circumstances, and after consultation between the Board and the board of the sub-association, may a later date than 1 December be determined for the approval of the annual account by the rigro.
14. Members are not to receive payment from the Study association for performances in service of the Study association that are part of the regular tasks of the relevant committee, the board of the sub-association, sorority, or other entity. The exception to this is a one-time gift (of maximum € 20,-) at the end of the term in this position or at graduation, which only may be awarded by the Board or the board of a sub-association. Furthermore, Members of the Student for a day Committee, and Members of the PC-AS, are compensated by the Information and Recruitment of the WUR and are also an exception. When committees, sorority or other entities want to award gifts, this must be in consultation with the Board. Occasionally, the Board can decide to offer non-financial compensation to persons who have contributed additional services that cannot be attributed to any particular committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity.
15. The maximum kilometre allowance is according to the WUR guidelines for traveling Members of the Study association. The current amount is stated in the Guidelines for Treasurers. The cost of public transport on behalf of the Study association can be fully reimbursed.
16. When an activity is cancelled and all amounts on the settlements are € 00.00, the settlement no longer needs to be approved by the rigro if the budget has already gone through the rigro.
17. The use of personal funds exceeding an amount of € 250,- for Study association purposes is discouraged by the Board. Exceptions can be made after consultation with the Board. A written agreement must be given by the Board. If no permission was granted, the Study association is not financially accountable.
18. If no discharge is granted, the Board, committee, sub-association, sorority or other entity is still financially accountable until discharge is granted. When no discharge is granted for the board of a sub-association, the financial pieces have to be presented for a second time in a rigro. In this rigro, the quorum that the sub-association has for the GMMs, must be met by their own members. Otherwise, another GMM needs to take place.

For a multi-day activity, the activity budget can be requested for up to three days. The Board assesses whether the sub-association is entitled to the requested amount. This amount must be used to offer a discount on fees for the Members of the Study association. Every year, during the presentation of the annual budget of the Board, an amount for the activity budget, which is used to supplement the budget, and the maximum amount that can be requested per activity per Member per day is proposed by the Board during a rigro. The amount by which this budget is supplemented shall be based on the average profit of the Study association over several recent financial years. Each sub-association has the right to request a maximum of 1/6 of the amount of this budget at the beginning of the academic year.
21. When a lustrum is organised by Study association “De Veetelers” or a sub-association, a present is given by the other sub-associations. For this a maximum of twenty euros can be used from the sub-association bank account. When the present costs more than twenty euros, this will be paid by the board members of the concerned sub-association.
22. The GMM agenda of a sub-association should be sent two weeks in advance to the Board and one week in advance to members.

When a Member is invited to join “Vitulus Cervisia”, an introduction period follows, in which certain tasks have to be fulfilled. After this introduction period, the aspiring member is officially a member of “Vitulus Cervisia”.
7. “Vitulus Cervisia” is still in a trial period. After the end of this period an evaluation has to take place during a rigro in June of academic year 2023-2024, after which a final decision about the continuation of the sorority will be made.

CHAPTER 13 Other entities

The email must start with an English explanation, followed by a Dutch explanation.
 14. Regulations of the other entities should not contain any items in conflict with the law of the Study association.
 15. Other entities may only publish publications in the name of the Study association, after approval by the Board.
 16. Non-Board Members are not allowed to sign contracts as long as they are not authorised by the Board. Non-Members in committees, sub-associations, sorority and other entities cannot be authorised by the Board to sign agreements on behalf of the Study association.
 17. The other entities explain their state of affairs and plans for their next activities during the Committee rigro. At least two members of the other entity, but preferably the entire other entity must be present during the Committee rigro. When this is not the case, a treat with a maximum of two treats will be given the next rigro.

CHAPTER 14 Insurances

 - Board liability coverage. This insurance protects the private assets of Board Members, commissioners and supervisors against the risk that they will be held liable personally for financial damage from third parties by mistakes, omissions or negligence in the performance of their duties.
2. Fines for traffic violations must be paid privately. Damage to vehicles used for activities of the Study association are not reimbursed by the Study association. If it can be proven that the damaged rental vehicle was properly used during the activity, the Study association guarantees the deductible. Based on the level of use of the vehicle, the Board determines if and to what extent the Study association will pay for the deductible. Regarding damaged vehicles that are used for activities of committees and sub-associations, the Study association will not be financially liable for the committee or sub-association. When using vehicles, the appropriate protocol must be used.

CHAPTER 15 Almanac

1. The Almanac is published by the Almanakcie. This committee preferably consists of eight Members. The Almanac, the Almanac ceremony and party should preferably be financed from the revenues of advertisements placed in the Almanac. In addition, the committee receives per beneficiary member an annual amount to be determined. The committee is preferably set up in December. The committee must submit a budget in mid-March. In the meantime, at least one financial interim report is submitted, which must be approved by the rigro. The Almanac should be presented around November. Members, donors, patron(ess), honorary members, (main) sponsors, advertisers in the Almanac, and boards of study and student associations get an Almanac. Within two months after the publication of the Almanac, the committee must submit a settlement for approval in the rigro. This settlement can contain debtors.
2. Almanakcie consults with the Board what the agreements will be in terms of profit or loss, depending on the financial status of the Study association. The financial status of the Study association will be notified to Almanakcie. Any profit or loss is accounted for by the Study association.
3. The donations from donors will then be available for the Study association, until the new Almanakcie is established.
4. Each year the Board will take an advisory role in determining, together with Almanakcie, a limit for sponsoring income, desired printing costs, the number of copies of the Almanac, and the details of the ceremony. It will also be discussed what the distribution of money is that is dedicated to the book, the ceremony, and the party.
